Japanese Commander Blamed for the Kow Shing Slaughter.

Court of Inquiry's Report on the Destruction of Drowning Chinamen.

Minister Kurino Says the Japs Are Well Fitted for War.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Aug. 21.—A despatch from Shanghai to-day says that the Court of Inquiry has established the fact that the commander of the Japanese warship Naniwa ordered the destruction of the drowning men from the Chinese transport Kow Shing, which was sunk by the Japanese.

The despatch adds that Vice-Admiral the Hon. Sir E. R. Fremantle, in command of the British China station, is collecting detailed evidence on this subject.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 21.—No news of any importance has been received here recently in regard to the movements of the fleets or concerning the military operations.

The two Japanese spies who were arrested in the French settlement of Shanghai are under the protection of the United States Consul, and will remain so until a charge is clearly formulated against them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Minister Kurino, of Japan, is keeping a very keen eye on the newspaper despatches from Korea and Yachama. He said last night that he could not believe all of them were correct, for there was an understanding between himself and his government that when there was serious fighting he should be apprised at once.

"I have consequently been expecting despatches," he said, "but since my arrival I have not received one. Consul China has not received any either."

In connection with this, I want to combat an impression prevalent with some of the American people that I am here to raise a loan, or possibly, to get American troops and officers.

"My coming is in no way a reference to the war," he said. "I am here to see the Japanese people, and to see if they are really as well trained, even in Japan, as we have far more application for places to fight than we require."

"Our people are anxious to volunteer, but we do not need them. The Japanese would be in the way of the trained troops. Our people, too, are offering money to the government, but we do not need it, and steadily refuse it."

"I am not a number of Japanese, and I am not a number of Japanese, but I have explained the real condition and endeavored to discourage them. Besides, the government has no need of our money."

RED FLAG TAKEN IN.

County Treasurer Can Now Use His Safes.

Justice Gaynor Orders the Execution Set Aside.

Says that the Word "As" Was Inserted in the Judgment.

By an order of Justice Gaynor, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, this morning, the execution of the judgment of the County of Kings, rendered in the case of the County Treasurer Adams and Hugo Hirsch, was set aside.

The matter came up before Justice Gaynor on the motion of Counselor Broome, representing the County of Kings, for an order to modify the judgment of John B. Meyerberg, Esq., obtained under a decision of Justice Gaynor last June.

Isaac M. Kapper represented County Treasurer Adams and Hugo Hirsch, appearing for Sheriff Bunting. The County of Kings, for an order to modify the judgment of John B. Meyerberg, Esq., obtained under a decision of Justice Gaynor last June.

PARTICULARS BILL THE ISSUE.

New Bedford Strikers Say It Is More than the Wage Question.

Five More Mills Have Closed Down in Fall River.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 21.—All the mills of the city are completely shut up to-day. The Howland corporations have not yet resumed work, but undoubtedly will within a few days, as an agreement has been fully reached.

The spinners' Executive Committee is to-day trying to get the Bennett and Columbia mills, which manufacture the same line of goods as the three Howland corporations. In line, and from statements made privately by the officials of these mills there is some reason to believe that the effort will be successful.

The fate of the strike now depends upon the cloth mills. Some of the treasurer are disposed to fight it out if it takes all Winter, and they assert that an agreement has been reached whereby the mills are to be locked up indefinitely.

On the other hand, individual treasurers are quoted as saying that they are looking for a loop-hole to get out of the trouble and will be glad to find it quickly.

The Bristol mill, which was prosecuted in court recently for running on Saturday afternoon, is so loaded with orders that a gentleman very close to the management said to-day it could not think of shutting down for any length of time.

It may be, however, that even if the manufacturers finally concede the wage question, the strike will not immediately end. The operatives are indignant at the evasion of the recently passed Particulars bill, and at a mass-meeting at the South Park to-day they voted to continue the strike until the Particulars bill is passed.

The strike committee does not regard the Howland concession as a victory, and members express the belief it does not by any means end the strike.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 21.—Five more mills shut down to-day on account of the strike, and there is a decrease of fully 1,500 looms in the mills yet running.

LAKE PRESSURE DID IT.

Cooled the Atmosphere and Knocked Out Humidity.

High pressure from the lake regions said to be responsible for the present cool wave. The humidity has fallen no less than 32 per cent. since yesterday morning. At 8 o'clock this morning it stood at 62 per cent. Mr. Dunn says this fall in percentage is a most remarkable one and rarely equaled.

The temperature is also lower. It was only 80 degrees at 10 o'clock to-day against 86 at the same hour yesterday. A north wind is traveling by us at the rate of 10 miles an hour, and doing its share in keeping the temperature down. Mr. Dunn thinks, however, that the wind is not the cause of the fall.

His official forecast is fair and cool for to-day, slightly cooler to-morrow to-night, and then more heat. Outside temperatures to-day were, at eight o'clock, Boston and Albany, 86; Oswego, 82; Chicago, 82; St. Paul, 82; New Orleans, 78. Highest record 84, at Key West, Fla., and lowest 30, two degrees below zero, at White River, N. D.

Mr. Dunn has heard from Washington that the result of the forecasting contest, in which he was defeated, will be made public this week.

SHOOTING MAY PROVE FATAL.

Boys Didn't Know the Revolver Was Loaded.

George Taylor, a young Virginian, was held to answer in the Jefferson Market Police Court this morning for the probable fatal shooting of William Gallatin at the residence of his friend, John E. Liefeld, 48 Seventh avenue, about 9:30 o'clock last night.

Taylor and young Page were chatting about 9 o'clock last night. Taylor, who is 22 years old, and lives at 148 West Fifty-second street, and had dropped in on a visit to his friend, who lives at 48 Seventh avenue, and was holding a 32-caliber revolver, which Taylor took and commenced snapping. The boys thought it was a joke, and Taylor, who had just fired the revolver, was laughing.

The hospital physicians say that they dare not probe for the bullet, and that Gallatin will hardly live the day out.

WANT SCHIEREN RESTRAINED

Wallabout Market Merchants Appeal to the Supreme Court.

Lawyer Stephen M. Hoye appeared before Justice Gaynor, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, this morning, with an application for an order restraining Mayor Schieren from interfering in any way with the property or stalls of fish-merchants doing business in Wallabout Market.

The plaintiffs, Mr. Hoye, said were the original lessees of the stalls in the market. He asked to have the report of the City of New York, which was made in 1900, and the leases of the stalls in the proposed new market given to his clients, John E. Liefeld and fourteen others.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Mudge appeared for Mayor Schieren, and opposed the motion. Justice Gaynor reserved decision.

FOUGHT HARD TO DIE.

Novel-Read Rosetta Czeisler Drank Carbolic Acid.

She Is Fourteen Years Old, Pretty, and Full of Romance.

Mystery in Her Young Life Which She Will Not Reveal.

There is a romance in the life of pretty little Rosetta Czeisler, fourteen years old, of 192 Stanton street, but just what it is neither her parents nor the other people who live in the house can tell. That it is a very serious and tragic romance to little Rosy—as she is known to all her friends—is certain, for last night she made a desperate attempt to kill herself.

At a few minutes before midnight the child staggered from the dark hallway of 48 Sherif street. Charles Stecker, of 226 River street, was passing and he caught her in his arms to keep her from falling. When he called Policeman Harvey, who was on duty at the station, who was near by. It was seen that the young girl was suffering, and the odor of carbolic acid was strong on her lips. An ambulance was called from Gouverneur Hospital, and it was 2 o'clock this morning before the physicians succeeded in getting her out of the danger.

She had taken nearly an ounce of carbolic acid. Policeman Harvey went back to the hallway of the Sheriff street tenement, and by the aid of the light from matches found a little bottle which had contained carbolic acid. The label on the bottle had been partially scratched off, and it was impossible to discover what had been written on it. He also found a little white handkerchief and a novel. The novel was old and well thumbed. It was called "That Pretty Young Girl."

On one of the pages was written "Fred Montebello," and beneath the name was this paragraph: "Little is shaking fast. She will not live the week out. Signed, EARL OF DENHAYEN."

One of the pages was turned down at this point. "If you lead Mrs. Trevalyn to the altar it will be over my dead body. My curse be on you. I love you. Remember these lines: 'Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned.'"

At Rosy's home, 192 Stanton street, her parents had just learned of her attempt on her life when an Evening World reporter called. Her father, Louis Czeisler, is a furrier, and the rooms in which the family live are comfortably furnished and cheerful.

WEDDING RING ON HER FINGER.

Juliette, According to the Story Told by Marcus's Sister, Was Married to Her Own Uncle.

Lying together in one of the most picturesque spots along the Ramble in Central Park this morning two dead bodies were found, one that of a petite and pretty young woman, and the other that of a handsome young man.

Juliette Fournier, 33 East Broadway, was found with a wedding ring on her finger. The bodies were found by a policeman who was on duty in the park.
